What does it mean to celebrate over 25 years in business? If you are General Motors, Ford or Sears, you may say that it is a short period of time. Others may say it is quite an accomplishment. Parties To Remember is celebrating its silver anniversary this year as a local Reno business. What began from the love to create the most memorable celebrations, has grown well beyond the original idea of its owner, Missy Green.

In August 1986 Missy was talking with an aunt of hers about the aunt's business selling invitations. A nerve was hit and Parties To Remember was born. Missy started out of a small storage shed in her back yard and helped friends, neighbors and a few referrals with their children's birthday parties. Parties To Remember would supply the invitations, party favors and decorations. Soon she incorporated cakes and food for the events.

While the original services offered are still available today, Missy has expanded to also include different venues, entertainment, flowers, party and equipment rentals, photography, videos and much more. "Tell me your vision, and I will make it a reality," is one of the first things that is asked of the customer. The only limit to what an event can entail is how far the imagination can take you. From the description of the customer's dreams, mixed with Missy's creative ideas, events come together to exceed any expectations. Missy does not sell a tangible product, but does provide a very important service, the ability to make your event something that is special and memorable. Often clients walk into a first appointment hoping to simply get a new idea, and end up walking out knowing they can have everything they want, and more. Her most important rule is to work within her client's budget. As she always says, "If you don't have a budget, I want to know where you live, because you must have money growing on trees."

"From your first wish, to your last dish," "you bring the guest, we do the rest," and "quality is not expensive, it's priceless," are sayings used daily by Parties To Remember. From a small intimate dinner for two, to a corporate event for thousands, Parties To Remember has provided the best possible service that the couple, administrative assistant, bride and groom, or corporate executives could imagine.

Missy and Parties To Remember has had the opportunity to work with the National Conference of Christians and Jews honoring the late Sammy Davis, Jr., the sixtieth Israeli anniversary of independence for the Reno community, developers for grand openings, a local auto dealer for a story-book wedding in Ireland, themed birthday parties, weddings for our men and women in uniform, a U.S. Senator wanting Nevada favors for a daughter's wedding in Washington, D.C., and many more special events. Missy also works with her caterer during the year feeding the homeless or those who are less fortunate than most. It is important to her and Parties To Remember that she gives back to the community that has supported her and her business for so long.

The business has grown over the past twenty-five years to include over sixty individuals and businesses that work within the Parties To Remember "family." Missy does not use the word, subcontractors. Her party "family" has grown from two, and even three generations of a family. She has created events for births, birthday parties, bar and bat mitzvahs, Quinceañeras, sweet sixteen celebrations, weddings, and celebrations of life. Many times these events have been for the same family, with just a few years in between.

The web site, www.partiestormember.com, allows its guests to some of the products and services that can be included in their special event. You can read several testimonials from former and current customers about how Parties To Remember made their event much more special. Please call Missy at (775) 348-4787, and schedule an appointment with her for your next event. Missy would be happy to answer any of your questions. Missy wants to help create a magical time in your life that you will always know as a "Party To Remember."
